

The prototype is showing a cube-shaped mini club house design with phone screen being the top lighting.

The bottom cube is designed to be made with glass or acrylic or any other transparent material so that the lights/phone screen will light up the entire cube from inside to outside.